LDA.Palavras-chave: price, price indicationArtigos da diretivaPrice Indication Directive, link Price Indication Directive, Article 4Nota introdutória

The fact that the price tags of products displayed in shop windows are facing down shall not be regarded as a non-visible indication of selling prices and, therefore, as an infringement of article 4 Directive 98/6/EC (implemented into Portuguese law by article 5 Decree-Law No. 138/90 of 26 April) and article 8 Decree-Law No. 138/90 of 26 April, when such fact was due to an oversight.

Factos

The defendant displayed products for sale in the shop window of his retail store. Despite the fact the products were duly tagged, the tags were facing down, which could be regarded as a non-visible indication of selling prices and, therefore, as an infringement of Article 8 Decree-Law No. 138/90 of 26 April. The defendant claimed that such fact was due to an oversight.
